NETWORKING

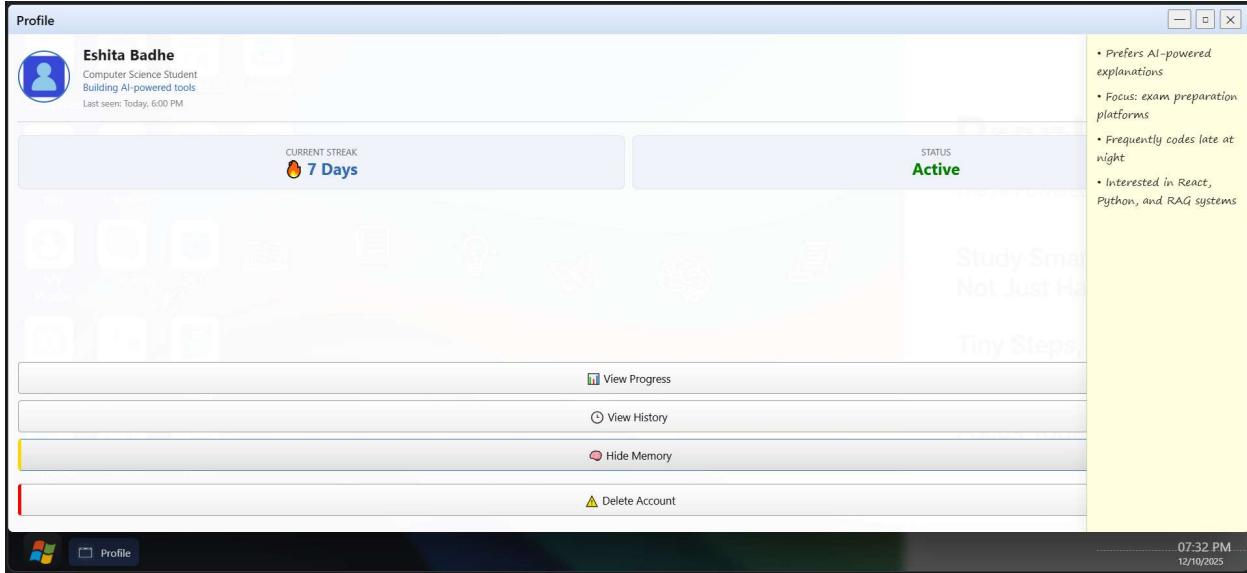

The screenshot shows a messaging window titled "Message". On the left, there's a sidebar titled "Network · Study Contacts" listing "Security Mentor" (Online - Helps with doubts), "Lab Partner" (Last seen 10 min ago), and "Study Group (CyberSec)" (3 members - Exam tomorrow). The main area shows a conversation with "Security Mentor": "Hey, ready for the cyber security exam?", "Nice. Ping me if you get stuck on any concept.", "Okay.", and a message bubble from the mentor: "Almost! Revising mobile security and IT section." A "Send" button is visible at the bottom right of the message area. At the bottom of the window, there's a toolbar with icons for Windows, Task View, and a "Message" icon, along with the time "07:23 PM" and date "12/10/2025".

NEWS

The screenshot shows a news window titled "News". On the left, there's a sidebar titled "Cyber Security News" with a search bar ("Search headlines...") and category filters ("All", "Breaches", "Mobile", "Cloud", "Best Practices"). Below this is a note: "Prototype: all articles are predefined mock items focused on exam-relevant cyber security stories." The main area is titled "Today's Highlights" and lists four stories: 1. "Data Breach" by Cyber Daily (2 hours ago) - "Major analytics provider reports data exposure impacting multiple AI platforms". 2. "Mobile Malware" by Mobile Threat Lab (4 hours ago) - "New Android banking trojan disguises itself as a productivity app". 3. "Cloud Misconfig" by Cloud Security Watch (Today) - "Misconfigured cloud storage exposes internal IT documentation". 4. "Policy" by Campus Cyber News (Yesterday) - "Universities push least-privilege policies ahead of exam season". Each story has a "Read more (prototype)" link. At the bottom of the window, there's a toolbar with icons for Windows, Task View, and a "News" icon, along with the time "07:28 PM" and date "12/10/2025".
